G. I. Talks With Senators About Deployment

T/4 Harold Schiffrin (left) of Rochester, N. Y., chairman of a G.I. committee, reads a statement to visiting Senators James M. Tamm (D-Del.) (center) and William F. ## Eisenhower Says Demobilization Was Slowed to Keep Army Strong

The new deadline for a general strike of 800,000 C.I.O. steelworkers is 12:01 a. m. Monday. Nearly 30,000 steelworkers were idle in six states today—12,000 in New York, 6,500 in Illinois, 5,000 in Massachusetts, 3,500 in Indiana, 2,000 in Pennsylvania and 900 in Connecticut.

The American Iron and Steel Institute estimated steel mills will operate at 75 per cent capacity this week, as compared with 82.0 per cent last week. Production was predicted at 1,401,200 tons against 1,502,000 last week.

One more strike was reported. Three hundred C.I.O. steelworkers walked out at the Yale mill of Bethlehem Steel Co. at Williamsport, Pa., in protest against what they said was a revision of their work schedule.

Biggest walkout was at Lackawanna, N. Y., where 11,000 have been idle since Friday.

The workers charge the company rejected a union proposal to assist in making "equitable arrangements" for plant maintenance in event of a strike.

Similar labor issues were involved in the other pre-deadline strikes.

From Washington came word the government would cancel all priorities on steel—military as well as civilian—if there is a steel strike. New priorities would be granted. It was announced, to channel steel products only to public utilities and emergency uses. Officials said stocks would last "probably for months" if so used.

Deadline in Steel Strike on Monday

Pending New Talks
Rival Spokesmen to Meet Tomorrow in Washington as Industry Nears Normalcy

Pittsburgh, Jan. 15 (AP)—The steel industry, back for at least a few days more operation, moved toward normal again today but kept an eye peeled for developments in Washington where spokesmen for union and management will confer at the White House tomorrow.

Packers Are Ordered To Strike Wednesday

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—The A.F.L. Meat Cutters Union notified its 500 local units today to strike at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday against six large meat packing companies.

"Every effort on the part of our international officials to avoid a nationwide meat packing strike has been unsuccessful," the union officials said in a telegram to the locals.

The offers thus far made by the four large packers cannot possibly be accepted. They are grossly inadequate.

The telegrams went out as government conciliators proceeded with last minute conferences with union and management officials to halt the strike.

Public Hearing On Emerick Site Thursday Night

A public hearing will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall by the laws and rules committee of the Common Council on the application of Robert Emerick to have the former Emerick bowling alleys on Albany avenue changed from the business to the industrial zone.

If the change is granted it is understood that the former alleys will be used by the Good-Fit Co. of Brooklyn for the manufacture of women's shoes.

The former alleys are now located in the business zone, under the provisions of which not more than 50 persons may be employed. As the concern desires to employ approximately 100 people the request is being made to change the zone to an industrial one.

The newspaper added that headquarters has 69 Colonels, or 10 more than the number of technical sergeants: 63 Lieutenant Colonels; 75 Majors; 131 Captains; 145 First Lieutenants and 87 Second Lieutenants.

Check Milk Prices

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—A resolution providing for creation of a joint legislative committee to investigate the "spread" between the amount paid milk producers and the price paid by the customer was introduced today by Senator Arthur W. Hecht, Bronx Democrat.

The resolution was referred to the Finance Committee. It called for a report by February 15, 1947, and an appropriation of $25,000.

Appointed County Judge

Taxpayers' Action Against City To Test Legality of 1946 Budget; Suit May Hold Up Payments

No Money Borrowed on Certificates as Yet, Declares the City Treasurer

Funds Needed Expected to Borrow Some of the Money This Week

Payless pay days may face city employees, and payment of all bills against the city deferred with the filing of a taxpayers' suit against the city. Papers in the suit were served on Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, City Clerk Leo P. Fennelly and City Treasurer William B. Byrne at their homes last night.

At the regular meeting of the Common Council on January 8, the alderman authorized the city treasurer to borrow $100,000 on certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of the collection of the annual tax levy.

No Money Borrowed
City Treasurer William B. Byrne said this morning, in response to inquiries, that no money has been borrowed as yet on the certificates. He expected to borrow some of the money authorized by the council this week as funds were needed to meet outstanding bills that must be paid.

Whether the banks, now that a taxpayers' suit had been instituted, would honor the certificates he was not in a position to know as he had not made any application for a loan as yet.

The city treasurer expressed the opinion that until the suit is settled the city would not be able to pay its bills or meet the city's payrolls. He said he would seek an opinion from the corporation counsel.

Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig when questioned by a Freeman reporter said that he had not seen the moving papers in the suit, and until he had read them carefully, he was not in a position to offer an opinion.

If an injunction is granted by the court in the suit, all city payments must be suspended, including salaries and taxes collected until the suit is decided.

May Curtail Services
City officials said today that if the plaintiffs' contention is upheld by the courts and it is necessary to streamline the budget by reducing the appropriations to bring them within the 2 per cent limitation, it will mean a curtailment of all city services.

The budget, which had been drafted by Mayor William F. Edelmuth, was adopted by a strictly party vote of seven Democrats to six Republicans votes, at the council meeting on January 8.

Before the adoption of the budget Alderman Victor H. Roth minority member of the finance, ways and means committee, submitted a minority report in which he pointed out that the budget exceeded the two per cent limitation, and urging that the budget be returned to the mayor for correction. The majority members of the committee submitted a majority report favoring the adoption of the budget as presented which was adopted by a vote of 7 to 6.

The council later in the meeting approved the request of the city treasurer for authorization to issue certificates of indebtedness in the sum of $100,000 in anticipation of the tax collection.

Troop-Laden Transport Reported in Distress

Boston, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Liberty transport Henry Baldwin bound for New York from Antwerp with 589 troops aboard today sent out a distress call from 300 miles southeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

Reporting a break on the starboard side of the after-dock after battering from heavy westerly seas, the craft called for assistance from the navy's air-sea rescue service of the eastern sea frontier.

Republicans Start Action Today for Soldier Bonus

Senate Leader Prepares to Introduce Bill for Bi-Partisan Committee

By ROBERT S. JOHANSON
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—The Legislature acts today to carry out Governor Dewey's recommendation—assailed by Democrats—to establish a bi-partisan committee for considering all soldier bonus proposals.

Senate Majority Leader Benjamin F. Feinberg prepared for introduction in a joint resolution providing for a 12-man committee—three Republicans and three Democrats from each house.

Feinberg said the committee would draft a constitutional amendment, bonus proposal for submission to this session and the one next year. It passed in both sessions and in a referendum in November, 1947, the measure would be implemented by the 1948 legislature to provide a cash payment to some 1,500,000 state veterans of World War II.

Two more bonus bills were introduced last night in the assembly. Alexander Del Giorno, (D), Long Island City, asked that the state authorize up to $300,000,000 for bonuses equal to U. S. muster-out pay. A similar proposal was introduced by Nathan A. Lashin, D, Bronx.

On Vets Real Estate
A bill to exempt from real estate taxes property purchased by a permanently disabled World War II veteran with funds donated by popular subscription was introduced by Assemblyman Harry A. Reoux, (R), Warrensburg.

Senate bills would:
Eliminate the breakage in Parimutuel betting so that the full amount of the pool, minus the 30 per cent "handle," would go to the race track bettors. (William F. Condon, R, Yonkers).

Establish a 6-day, 48-hour work week for all persons in hotels and restaurants and prohibit employment of women in such places between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m. hat check girls, cigarette or flower girls, cloakroom attendants, chambermaids and charwomen would be excepted. (William Bevelly, R, Lockport).

For Children's Health
Authorize each local board of education to provide health service, including medical examinations, for all public school children under 15 years old. The State War Council would be permitted to allocate funds to help schools financially unable to pay for the service. (Samuel L. Greenberg, D, New York).

Specify that state veterans scholarships be distributed to each county would receive at least five. (Fred A. Young, R, Lewisville).

Would Bar Barmains

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—Two bills to prohibit employment of barmains in New York state are before the Legislature, introduced last night by Senator William Broome, R, Lockport, the measures would amend the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law so that "no retail licensee for on-premises consumption" could employ a woman to "draw, pour or mix" any alcoholic drink sold across a bar. Only exceptions would be a woman who was a licensee or the wife of a licensee.

Strike Is 100 Per Cent Effective as 200,000 Leave Their Jobs, Union Reports

Transaction Estimated to Involve $100,000; Plan to Double Production

Negotiations were completed and deeds executed Monday by which a new brickmaking concern, Terry Brick Corporation, becomes the owner of the lower brickyard property of Philip Goldrick & Son at Ulster Landing. It is estimated that the transaction involves a sum of around $100,000.

The new corporation also takes over the old established brickyards of Terry Bros. Co. on North street, Kingston.

Prominent among officers and directors of the new corporation are: Leo E. Schwarzstein, president, and Abe Joseph, Mr. Schwarzstein is the owner and operator of the Yonkers Ferry Corporation and president of the Eureka Shipbuilding Corporation of Newburgh. Mr. Joseph is the owner of a large trucking corporation, owns and operates the Cornwall Sand and Stone Corporation, at Cornwall, and recently purchased the Rosoff sand and gravel property near Kerhonkson.

The new Terry Brick Corporation is expected to take possession of the properties, which include extensive deposits of some of the best brickmaking clay along the Hudson river, on Friday.

The Goldrick property transferred embraces about 100 acres of clay land. The former Smith farm, it was purchased by Philip Goldrick in 1913, but has not been worked extensively. Goldrick Bros. having manufactured most of their brick at their upper yard, about a mile north. It is understood that they will continue the business at this upper yard, where they have hundreds of acres of clay soil available and where they plan to double the present capacity.

The Terry Bros. business was started some 80 or more years ago by David Terry, grandfather of the present owner, who was succeeded by his sons, Albert and Edwin Terry. In 1902 the business was incorporated, the owners being Albert Terry and his two sons, David and Jay Terry. Albert Terry died in 1911 and Jay Terry in 1943, leaving David to continue the business. The yard has a capacity of 100,000 bricks daily and employs an average of 70 men.

In the negotiations leading to the present transfer of properties Goldrick Bros. and the new Terry Brick Corporation were represented by Cashin & Ewig, while the Terry Bros. Co. was represented by George F. Kaufman.

Would Aid C.I.s

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—Legislation to make striking war veterans eligible for unemployment insurance benefits was advocated today by Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck. Pointing out that any New York state veteran who is on strike cannot collect either states or veterans' unemployment insurance although the civilian striker can after the usual seven-week suspension period, Heck said he would move immediately for enactment of a measure to correct the inequality.

Hint Wage Hike as Meat Strike Nears Deadline

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—Government conciliators went ahead today in last minute conferences with union and management officials in efforts to halt the nation wide packing house strike called for midnight tonight.

As Edgar L. Warren, chief of the Conciliation Service, summoned the disputants for discussions on the wage issue, there were reports from Washington that government officials reportedly had offered additional price relief as a basis for settlement of the dispute.

An added increase, the reports said, might provide the basis for a wage increase of 5 to 6 cents an hour, which with the meat industry offer of 7 1/2 cents would boost the total to possibly 13 1/2 cents. The C.I.O. United Packinghouse Workers Union originally had asked 25 cents an hour but cut its demand to 17 1/2 cents with further negotiations.

Warren said that an agreement reached by some smaller packing houses, providing for a wage in-

W. B. Martin, George W. and Alice Moore Bring Suits Against City, Officials

Hearing Jan. 25 Charge Budget Is Over Limitation by $170,000

A taxpayers' action has been brought by William B. Martin, a former city assessor, George W. Moore, also a former city assessor, and Mrs. Alice L. Moore against the City of Kingston, Mayor William F. Edelmuth, City Treasurer William B. Byrne and Leo P. Fennelly, clerk of the city of Kingston, by which the petitioners, individually, and on behalf of taxpayers of the city, seek to test the legality of the 1946 budget which has been approved by the Common Council.

It is alleged that the budget exceeds the 2 per cent limitation which is permitted to be raised by taxation under Article 2, Section 10, of the Constitution of the State of New York. This section limits the amount which may be raised by taxes to not more than 2 per cent of the average assessed valuation for the five years last preceding. It is charged that the 1946 budget offered by Mayor Edelmuth exceeded this limitation by approximately $170,000.

Plaintiffs in their moving papers seek a temporary injunction to restrain the city from proceeding under the budget until the legality of the matter has been determined by the court. The matter of a temporary injunction will be heard at a special term of Supreme Court to be held at Albany on January 25. Vincent G. Connelly appears for petitioners and Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig will appear for the city.

The papers allege that the amount permitted to be raised under the provision of the State Constitution for city purposes in 1946 is the sum of $467,938.92, that being 2 per cent of the average assessed valuation for the five years last preceding.

Under the mayor's budget the amount sought to be raised by taxes on real estate is $662,129.44. This is $194,190.52 in excess of the amount permitted to be raised on taxable real estate for the year 1946.

Included in the budget is also a total of $17,445.85 as part of the indebtedness of the city of Kingston. These two sums together, it is alleged, make the total excess $171,636.17 and it is alleged that therefore the 1946 budget is illegal and its "enactment is unconstitutional usurpation of power by the city of Kingston."

Seek Injunction
Plaintiffs in their moving papers ask for a permanent enjoining and restraining order to prevent the defendants from taking any action toward levying and collecting taxes in said budget or tax levy and ask for a temporary injunction pending a hearing in determination of this action.

It has been repeatedly pointed out that the 2 per cent limitation is a serious problem in Kingston. Former Mayor C. J. Heiselman in messages pointed this out and stated something should be done. In 1943 Matthew V. Cahill, the Republican candidate for mayor, dwelt at length on this problem and the present city administration said the problem did not exist and was a figment of imagination. It is contended now that the problem cannot be met by a budget such on its face is not constitutional. The petitioners claim that there are ways to solve the problem and they should be met squarely and decisively instead of disregarding the mandates of the Constitution of the State of New York.

Petitioners contend that the amount by which the budget exceeds the 2 per cent limitation adds approximately $7 per thousand to the tax rate which was established by the budget at $40.64.

Attached in the moving papers is a copy of the budget which was approved by the Common Council.

Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig this morning stated he had not yet been served with a copy of the papers in the action and consequently had nothing to say regarding the matter.

Ives Not Candidate

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—Assembly Majority Leader Irving M. Ives says he is "not a candidate for anything." Ives, mentioned as a possible Republican nominee for U. S. senator next fall, made the statement last night in commenting on an address by Assemblyman Lee B. Miller, Cornwall-on-Hudson Republican.

Two other big packers, Hormel of Austin, Minn., and Regrade Food Products Corp., Chicago, have agreed to wage increases and further negotiations and will not be affected by a strike.

U. S. Officials Are Split Over Way To Boss Islands

By JACK SMITH

London, Jan. 15 (AP)—Official sources disclosed today that American civilian and military officials at the United Nations general assembly were split over whether American-conquered Japanese islands should be placed under U.N.O. sovereignty.

While the American delegation sought solution to this question, it was disclosed that the newly-elected security council, confronted with the twin tasks of controlling atomic energy and preventing another World War, held its first meeting Thursday.

Indications were that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Soviet Vice Commissar of Foreign Affairs Andrei Vishinsky would speak at the opening session, which will be devoted primarily to organization.

The disagreement over the trusteeship question, meanwhile, held the attention of the American officials.

The delegates themselves were said to favor a trusteeship plan for the Pacific islands, while their special military advisor, Gen. George C. Kenney, argued that the United States should retain any islands of military value.

Delegates said that if Kenney held out the disagreement could be considered as tantamount to an issue between the State and War Departments and would have to be referred to President Truman for settlement.

Eisenhower Tells Why Men Are Held In Armed Forces

is not tied in with the War Department's sponsorship of universal military training or with any desire of high ranking officers to retain their positions.

Some congressmen and some G.I.'s have suggested such might be the case.

False Conclusions

Such conclusions, Eisenhower asserted, are "utterly false."

Eisenhower said that of 1,500 general officers on duty on V-E Day, 789 already have been or are being reduced in rank or separated from service.

The meeting, in the Coolidge Auditorium of the library, drew approximately 200 Senate and House members whose complaints about demobilization led to the extraordinary session.

There were fewer than 500 Congressmen seated when Gen. Eisenhower, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, and several scores of navy and navy officers arrived at 10 o'clock, but they began pouring in a little later.

Eisenhower, wearing a field jacket, greeted the congressmen with a big smile, and then walked to the center of the stage, away from the microphone. He returned to the instrument after several persons laughingly shouted "back to the mike, Ike."

The loudspeakers also were connected to a large adjoining room where a group of Army and Navy enlisted men sat. Only members of Congress, newspapermen, and members of Gen. Eisenhower's and Adm. Nimitz's party were admitted to the auditorium.

Many of the lawmakers said frankly in advance they didn't expect the answers to reflect the G.I.'s and civilians who have been deluging Capitol Hill with wires, cables and letters since the recent demobilization slowdown.

Doubts Suitable Explanation

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) of the House Veterans Committee declared that he doubted whether a suitable explanation of this mess could be made. His pessimism was echoed by other legislators.

A likely outcome of the Eisenhower-Nimitz appearance, Rankin told reporters, might be additional strength for his drive to force Congressional action on demobilization legislation.

The Mississippi is author of a bill to require the armed services to discharge any man with two or more years of service, with a wife or children, with a dependent parent, or who desires to resume education interrupted by war duty.

The bill is stymied in the House Military Committee, but if 218 House members sign a pending petition, a quick House vote would be in order. There are an estimated 150 signatures now.

After today's session with the Army chief of staff and the chief of naval operations, Rankin predicted, "there will be many more signatures."

The Army, which military committee spokesmen said arranged today's meeting, was reported to be confident Eisenhower could clear up everything.

Both he and Nimitz were expected to speak "off the cuff," without prepared statements, and to answer any questions propounded by Congressmen.

Regardless of what the House does, a Senate Military Subcommittee has arranged to hear civilian War Department officials Wednesday and General Eisenhower Thursday in its investigation of demobilization.

Funeral on Thursday Of Mrs. Frances Sisco

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Sisco, formerly for the eastern plant of the Hirsch-Weiss Mfg. Co. of New York, will be held Thursday, January 17, at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, Mrs. Sisco, 48, died suddenly Sunday afternoon. The Hirsch-Weiss Mfg. Co. of New York will be closed Thursday morning.

Mrs. Sisco was born in Glasgow on February 6, 1898. She was connected with the clothing industry for 34 years. For many years she was the forelady for the Excelsior Corporation, and thereafter for the Hirsch-Weiss Mfg. Co. of New York since the opening of its branch in Kingston.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Leading stocks hit new 15-year peaks today in one of the fastest market sessions of the past several years but profit cashing ultimately put brakes on the swing.

Heavy orders made the ticker tape late at intervals in the morning. Low-quoted utilities again dominated volume with blocks of 10,000 to 20,000 shares registering for Columbia Gas and Commonwealth & Southern. The list seemed a bit fatigued by midday and the pace slowed. Best advances were reduced or cancelled in many cases near the fourth hour.

Hopes for labor adjustments, combined with the inflationary threat of rising prices and wages, still provided the principal buying inspiration. The walk-out of 200,000 electrical workers failed to chill sentiment. Fears of a sizable technical correction, however, caused the trimming of commitments.

In front most of the time were Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Great Northern, Erie, Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, U. S. Steel, Lukens Steel, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, American Telephone, Electric Power & Light, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, Du Pont and American Can. Stumbles Included Bethlehem, Chrysler, Public Service of N. J., Schenley, North American, Glenn Martin and International Harvester.

Bonds were steady and commodities uneven.

Nazis Sank Athenia

Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 15 (AP)—An affidavit by Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz introduced before the international military tribunal today exploded the German myth that the British liner Athenia was sunk by the British themselves in 1939 in a plot to push the United States into the war. The affidavit, signed by Doenitz on November 17, 1945, said the Athenia was sunk by the German submarine U-30 on the day Britain entered the war. On board were 1,500 passengers, some of them Americans. German propaganda at the time tried to lay the blame on Winston Churchill.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—New York state cigarette smokers, overcoming a nearly 1945 shortage, managed to finish the year with the heaviest smoking record in history, the State Tax Department reported today. Chapman, president of the State Tax Commission, said that state revenues from the cigarette tax totaled $24,737,851 during the year, representing 26,145,626,000 cigarettes—about 44,000,000 more than the record 1943 year.

Affirms Decree of Surrogate's Court

Appellate Division Affirms Decree of Ulster Surrogate

In a decision handed down last Friday, the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court affirmed a decree of the Ulster County Surrogate's Court, made last May. The matter involved upon the appeal was the judicial settlement of the account of the Farmers' and Manufacturers' National Bank of Poughkeepsie, as Administrator of the estate of Irving B. Roberts, deceased, late of Highland.

When the matter came up before Surrogate Sterley last spring, Grace Van B. Roberts of Highland appeared before the Surrogate, by Abraham Streifer, her attorney and objected to a certain claim which was asserted in the administrator's account against her. The objection was made upon jurisdictional and other grounds. In a decision subsequently rendered, Surrogate Sterley upheld such objection. Thereupon on May 7th, last, upon motion of the administrator, the claim asserted in the account was sold in open Court for a nominal sum. From the decision dismissing said claim and permitting the sale thereof, an appeal was taken to the Appellate Division at Albany.

In affirming the decision of the Surrogate's Court, the High Court wrote a memorandum as follows: "The administrator certified in its account that Grace Roberts was paid by Irving B. Roberts the sum of $583.54 for perpetual care of a cemetery lot which was never paid. Grace Roberts contended that the sum involved was a gift. All parties appearing in the Surrogate's Court acquiesced in the motion of the administrator for permission to sell the claim in open Court. That application was granted and the claim was sold. The purchaser of the claim is not a party to this proceeding.

The decree of the Surrogate's Court is affirmed, without costs. All concur."

Nominations Stated For New York Courts

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Edward S. Kamp, Albany, to be United States district judge for the northern district of New York. Kamp will succeed the late Frederick E. Bryant, Malone, who died several months ago. At the same time, Mr. Truman announced the appointment of J. Francis Keogh as U. S. attorney for the eastern district of New York. Keogh will succeed Miles F. McDonald, who resigned. The nominations are subject to Senate confirmation.

Kimmel Was 'Misled'

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel asserted today he was "misled" by a perwar warning into believing that the Navy Department thought no attack on Pearl Harbor was "imminent or probable." Attired in a dark suit with a bright blue tie, the 63-year-old retired naval officer began reading a 25,000-word statement in which he asserted that Washington officials had denied him information said might have made Pearl Harbor an ambush for the Japanese.

U.N.O. Group Goes To Boston Tomorrow

Boston, Jan. 15 (AP)—A United Nations Organization committee of 20 will arrive in Boston tomorrow by train for a six-day inspection tour of proposed sites for a permanent headquarters.

Originally scheduled to fly from New York, the group will leave New York's Grand Central station at 9 a. m., the New Haven railroad reported today, and is expected at South station at 2 p. m.

Churchill Favors Casablanca for Center of U.N.O.

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Winston Churchill, Britain's colorful wartime Prime Minister, was en route by train today to Miami, Fla., where he plans to spend the greater part of a six week American visit.

The ruddy-faced Englishman, his inevitable black cigar clasped between his teeth, and attired in the uniform of the Royal Yacht Squadron, arrived here last night aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth and in a news conference he told reporters he was not yet ready to retire from politics.

Asked whether he believed the United Nations Organization was making progress toward permanent peace in the world, Churchill said:

"As to its (who's) chances of success, you are as good a judge as I am. As to the need for such an organization, what else is there in the world to hope for?" Churchill also declared that his personal choice for a permanent home for the U.N.O. was Casablanca, where he and the late President Roosevelt met in the early days of the war; he added that he favors London as the site for the peace conference, that he will visit Hyde Park before he returns to England, and that he has no doubts that Hitler is dead.

Arrested for Having German Mauser Pistol

Anthony Rizzotto, 51, of New Palis, is in trouble, all because, as alleged, he bought a German Mauser revolver which had been brought home as a souvenir by a returned soldier.

The soldier brought the revolver back from Germany last fall. Complaints reached the State Police at Highland that he was carrying the gun, although he had not secured a license for that purpose, nor registered the gun with the police.

Investigating the complaint Corp. John Metzger of the State Police learned that the gun had been sold to Rizzotto. The latter was arrested by Corporal Metzger on the charge of possessing the gun without having a license. He was arraigned before Justice I. C. Barnes of New Palis, waived examination and was held for the action of the grand jury.

Commercial Plane
Makes New RecordNew York-Bermuda
Run in Less Than 6 Hours

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Pan American Airways officials claimed a new commercial record today for one of their Lockheed Constellation planes, which yesterday flew from New York to Bermuda and return—a distance of 1,340 miles—in five hours and 48 minutes. The initial flight shaved an hour and 44 minutes off the previous record, the officials said. The Constellation flew from La Guardia Field, New York, to Kindley Field yesterday in two hours and 22 minutes, an hour faster than the best previous commercial flying time. It made the return trip in three hours and 26 minutes.

The plane landed in Bermuda yesterday with American delegates, advisers and newspapermen who will attend the British-American aviation conference, which opens today. The conference will attempt to work out a new commercial air agreement to replace the one signed in 1937 which limits each country to two round trips weekly between the United States and England.

There were 42 passengers and ten crewmen aboard the Pan American Clipper when it took off with a gross weight of 81,000 pounds, including 2,500 gallons of gasoline. Only 1,300 gallons of fuel were used on the flight.

Ralph L. Carter of 54 Dennis street, Manhasset, N. Y., pilot, said the trip was flown at 15,000 feet, an altitude reached 19 minutes after takeoff. Cruising at 55 per cent of power, the plane reached ground speeds as high as 363 miles an hour with the aid of tail winds.

The flight was a non-scheduled charter operation.

"UNLESS"

Washington lately has seemed to be weltering in economic and political confusion, Walter Lippmann, one of the nation's foremost critics of current events, has blamed the White House. He wrote in the New York Herald-Tribune, on January 5, that needful congressional legislation supported by the President was being stalled in congressional committees, and that if people with no special interests couldn't make themselves heard, it was apparently because the President hadn't made it clear to them "what they were to make themselves heard about."

Besides confusion it might also be said that there is danger. On January 8 Ralph W. Cessna, staff correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, wrote:

"Stepping back from the nation-wide strike situation to see the thing as a whole, one is struck by the fact that, unless the country is in the midst of a far-reaching social and economic revolution, agreement and settlement in most cases should not be at all difficult."

It is hard to guess, at present, what significance may lie in that qualifying word, "unless."

There is neither problem nor peril which cannot be taken care of satisfactorily by straight-thinking, forward-looking, public-spirited Americans. But it is high time the nation in general began to buck up from its binding worries and face facts. Production is the basic need. Getting down to work, doing today's job and doing it right is the first essential.

THE TRUTH, NO LESS

Through an informal group of 2,000 observers the British Intelligence Division kept close tabs on British morale during the war years. The checking work, under a distinguished psychiatrist, was in no sense Gestapo-like, for persons interviewed were never identified by name, place of residence or occupation. One of the significant facts reported to Parliament in a recent summary of the division's work was that if the English people were told the truth, they would knuckle down to anything the government asked.

Truth is often hard to take in life, but most people prefer it to fantasy, evasions or sugar-coated glossings over. The truth, though it may often be a bitter and heavy load, leaves no vague imaginings, no devastating uncertainties or dread of further threats. The whole of it is out, and to be faced. What the British government learned in the painful blitz years is worth remembering for use in everyone's daily contacts.

UNAPPRECIATED SERVICE

"They also serve who only stand and wait." This is as true of baseball as of anything else, as proved by records such as that made last season by Eddie Stanky of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Figures just released show that he drew 148 free passes in 1945, shattering Jimmy Sheppard's record that had stood since 1911.

A good lead-off man who may not make many hits, but has the faculty of getting on base, is an asset that all managers appreciate, though the public may not. Some have been famous, such as Billy Hamilton and Roy Thomas half a century ago, whose uncanny skill at fouling off good balls until they drew a base on balls caused the passing of the foul-strike rule. A good lead-off man is something like a football lineman who does not carry the ball, but makes the opening for the man who does. Only the knowing give him proper credit. Life is like that, too.

"Town Meeting of the World" was the headline on an account of the meeting of the U.N.O. Assembly. Sure, "it's a small world, after all."

The Germans we kicked in Europe were supposed to go democratic, but recent news suggests that they're hedging on it.

It seems lately, to some folks, as if there are still far too many insoluble problems in the world.

THE APPROACH TO REVOLUTION

The pattern of the recent and current strikes avoids the appearance of a general strike, yet produces the effects of just such a revolutionary process. No one expected that American industry could increase wages 30 per cent with no increase in price, no increase in efficiency of production, while there are increases in the cost of raw and semi-manufactured materials. Nor did the politicians in Washington expect that they would be able to hold the line against inflation while raising wages without raising prices. They knew perfectly well that goods would not be produced under such circumstances. What they did not know was what to do about it.

A nominal fuss was made about showing books, which the soft-minded, self-called liberals immediately took up as an issue. All the data pertinent to wages and profits are available in all sorts of places; of course, prophetic data, often referred to as business judgment, could not be available, for that is in the mind of man. I here summarize the General Motors statement of data for the year 1944, for instance, all the data which could possibly interest or concern Walter Reuther and which he has. In this summary, I employ the form of balance sheet recommended by the American Economic Foundation because it is logical and understandable:

"We Received from
Customers ..... $4,200,000,000
These receipts were expended for:
The Cost of Goods and Services Bought from Others $2,253,000,000 (54%)
The Cost of Human Energy (Wages and Salaries) ..... 1,390,000,000 (33%)
The Cost of Payments or Orders by Government (Taxes) ..... 336,000,000 (8%)
The Cost of Tools Wearing Out (Depreciation and Amortization) ..... 64,000,000 (1 1/2%)
The Cost of Using the Tools (Profits, Dividends, etc.) ..... 157,000,000 (3 3/4%)
Total Expended ..... $4,200,000,000"

It is not "the books" that worry the young-men-in-a-hurry. They realize beyond doubt that the country is weary of their ideologies, their confusions, their belaboring of extraneous issues like the relationship of Franco's Spain to the price of butter in the United States or their insistence upon total subservience to every whim and whistle of Joe Stalin.

They are setting up a barricade against the reaction of the American people to the end of the war. They have received the administration to introduce a series of measures in Congress of a socialistic nature which would immediately prevent reductions in taxes, in the national debt and in the vast personnel of government officials—more than 3,000,000 of them—who have fallen upon the American people like a murrain. Congress has thus far declined to be pressured into passing this legislation; hence the political action of strikes which prevents reconversion, leaves the people without sorely needed goods and services, diverts attention from the effort toward socialization and, more than anything else, keeps the people preoccupied so that they cannot scrutinize, criticize and wax indignant over the complete collapse of our foreign policy in Europe, in Asia, everywhere.

Andrew D. White, "The Money Inflation of France," published in 1876 and now reprinted by Pamphleteers, Inc., sounds as though he were writing of today:
"..... They had then learned how easy it is to issue (paper money); how difficult it is to check its overissue; how seductively it leads to the absorption of the means of the workmen and men of small fortunes; how heavily it falls on all those living on fixed incomes, salaries or wages; how securely it creates on the ruins of the prosperity of all men of meager means a class of debauched speculators, the most injurious class that a nation can harbor; more injurious, indeed, than professional criminals whom the law recognizes and can throttle; how it stimulates overproduction at first and leaves every industry flaccid afterward; how it breaks down thrift and develops political and social immorality."

And White wrote:
"Such were the results of allowing dreamers, schemers, phrase-mongers, declaimers and strong men subservient to these to control a government."
When butter is being sold at 57 cents a pound, with 80 cents in prospect these figures might be of some current interest:

For a bushel of flour ..	40 cents	45 dollars
For a pound of sugar ..	38 cents	12 1/2 dollars
For a pound of soap ..	18 cents	8 dollars
For one cabbage ..	8 cents	5 1/2 dollars
For a pair of shoes ..	1 dollar	40 dollars
For twenty-five eggs ..	21 cents	5 dollars

The first sure step to revolution is the destruction of purchasing power by decreasing the value of currency. Stamp $2.00 on a $1.00 bill and do you have any more money?

DIPHTHERIA

A close relative of mine, powerfully built, showed his throat to a physician friend and the physician invited him to come down to the hospital with him. When he arrived a swab test of his throat was made for diphtheria and the diphtheria organisms were found. He was instructed to remain in hospital for a few days. He protested vigorously as he was not sick, had no temperature or fast pulse and had his work to do. Rather than stay in hospital he climbed out a window that night and returned home greatly indignant. I pointed out to him that as he was a diphtheria carrier he could infect others though he himself was not suffering with any of the symptoms—membrane on throat, high temperature and fast heart; that he should have remained in hospital for a short time until he was "safe" to mingle with others.

In the Bulletin of the United States Medical Department Drs. B. H. Berman and S. H. Spitz report their results in the use of penicillin in the treatment of a group of diphtheria carriers in an attempt to destroy these organisms in as short a time as possible. They applied the penicillin directly to the nose and throat. A patient was not considered a carrier unless diphtheria organisms had been found in a culture from the nose and throat for a period of more than three weeks. There were 22 cases of which were treated with penicillin and 12 received no penicillin treatment. The penicillin was dissolved in isotonic salt solution stable salt so that 1 cc contained 500 Oxford units. By means of an ordinary nose dropper 1 cc of this solution was instilled into both nostrils four times each day for five days. Immediately after instilling the penicillin up the nose another 1 cc was sprayed with an atomizer directly on the throat. The total amount of penicillin used per patient throughout the five day course was 20,000 units. The control group of patients did not receive the penicillin treatment; was treated with hot salt solution capsules four times daily. A salt gargle is considered a good throat cleanser.

"At Century's Turn"

The Connelly Drug Co. on February 2, 1924, signed a 10 years' lease for the corner store in the old Mansion House building on Broadway, at the Strand, and planned to remove on April 1, of that year, from the store they had occupied for 26 years in the Masonic Building on Broadway, opposite the Mansion House.

The Masonic Building was owned by Morris Yallum, who planned to use the store occupied by the drug firm as a clothing and shoe store. Henry C. Connelly, chairman of the Kingston Selective Service Board, for years was head of the Connelly Drug Co., and some years ago sold the business to Carl Weber, lower Broadway druggist, who since then has been operating the Connelly store in conjunction with the Weber drug store on lower Broadway, in the Weber building.

It is interesting to note that today Mr. and Mrs. Connelly are celebrating their golden wedding. President Calvin Coolidge on February 7, 1924, nominated former Mayor Walter M. Crane as postmaster of Kingston. The nomination was later confirmed by Congress and Mr. Crane held the post of postmaster for several years.

Another interesting event in 1924, was placing the Shandaken tunnel, the longest in the world at that time, in operation on February 9 of that year. The tunnel forms part of the New York City water supply system and conveys the waters of the Schoharie creek and these into the Ashokan reservoir. The tunnel is 18 miles long. The opening of the tunnel was held under the auspices of the New York City water department.

Murray Wigsten on January 22, 1924, was appointed manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Elwood L. Chase, who had held the post for several years. Mr. Wigsten assumed his duties on March 1 of that year.

Former Mayor William D. Brinnier, a well known Kingston lawyer, died on January 30, 1924, in his home on Delaware avenue, aged 65 years. He was a graduate of Old Kingston Academy and took up the study of law in 1871 in the office of Derrick W. Spruiling, for years a widely known lawyer of this city.

Mr. Brinnier was admitted to the bar to practice law in 1880. He was always interested in local political affairs and was elected mayor of the city on the Democratic ticket in 1897, serving for one term. At the time of his death he was serving the city as corporation counsel, having been appointed to that office on January 1, 1921, by the late Mayor Morris Black.

Mayor Black on February 8, 1924, appointed former County Judge James Jenkins to serve as corporation counsel to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Brinnier's death.

Today in Washington

Why Did Truman Hesitate to Seize Phone Industry? Could Have Averted Inconvenience

By DAVIL LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 15 — When President Truman took the oath of office, he pledged himself to execute faithfully the laws of the United States.

For several days the people in the vicinity of Washington have been unable to communicate by telephone with the national capital and residents here have been cut off from the rest of the country.

The Smith-Connally law forbids any strike or work interruption without a prescribed procedure, namely a strike ballot that requires a 30-day notice. It is a violation of the law to ignore the 30-day notice. The penalty could be found in the conspiracy statutes. "Anyone who encourages or stimulates two or more persons to violate a federal law can be held for that act."

Likewise it is within the power of the President to seize a company and its plant if a work interruption occurs. Thereafter it is unlawful to call a strike or to encourage two or more persons to strike.

Why did the President hesitate to seize the local Telephone Company in Washington and forbid the unions to continue their strike? The technically under which the unions operate nowadays is that a "continuous session" of their union isn't a strike. This is a subterfuge which the Department of Justice ought never to recognize for one moment. Let some employer say that he is busy "in conference" for three weeks or so and is in "continuous session" with his directors and cannot bargain collectively, and it would take about two days for a National Labor Relations Board to handle labor disputes during a time when we are officially and formally still at war.

To disrupt the telephone service of any important area of the country and to submit the people to the hazards of such interruptions is manifestly to be contemptuous of the public interest. The right to strike is, of course,

President's Argument
The American people expect the President to uphold the spirit as well as the letter of the law. Mr. Truman is contending that the war isn't over and that he needs an extension of war power statutes. He is rightly arguing that the aftermath of war is of such complexity that he cannot proclaim formally the ending of hostilities. The same argument goes for the exercise of his war powers to handle labor disputes during a time when we are officially and formally still at war.

Would Be Hard on Leader
But it will be said that the employees will not work for the government and will stay away. For any concerted movement to be instigated, however, it would be necessary for union leaders to sue certain orders. Workers do not abstain from work except under some form of discipline. An issue of the orders to strike or abstain from work while a suit is under government seizure may put the union leader in a heavy fine or both. The union tried it a year ago and its officers were promptly prosecuted. The Department of Justice could overlook such offenses once the authority of the United States was flouted.

Mr. Truman has the power to cure the epidemic of strikes and if public opinion is sufficiently aroused, he will find himself compelled to take drastic action. Any other course would be to allow the nation's economic system to drift into a condition of virtual paralysis. Britain faced somewhat the same situation in 1926 when a general strike, after which laws were passed prohibiting illegal strikes. Maybe the Congress will find itself passing some means like the British Labor Disputes Act for America.

an individual right, but there are limitations upon it in the law. An individual or group of individuals can take concerted action to bring about the quitting of work by any other group of individuals when the President has seized a plant.

Effective Weapon
Plant seizure is one weapon used effectively during the war. Mr. Truman has hesitated to use that power, which Congress gave him. Yet the inconvenience to the public has now extended to the point that it is wondered how much further the interest of the people must be damaged before the President will act.

The national telephone strike has been postponed for 30 days while a strike ballot is taken. By the end of the 30 days, will the administration sit by and allow such work stoppage to paralyze the nation's communications? Will Congress allow it?

Mr. Truman has sufficient power and prestige to bring about the passage of new legislation but he has authority under existing law to seize the major industries of the nation if necessary. The might not be palatable to employers or employees, especially since the government customers orders the existing contract to be extended and wage increases to be postponed.

Would Be Hard on Leader
But it will be said that the employees will not work for the government and will stay away. For any concerted movement to be instigated, however, it would be necessary for union leaders to sue certain orders. Workers do not abstain from work except under some form of discipline. ## Twentieth Century Club Asked To Help in Clothing Drive

Twentieth Century Club met at the home of Mrs. William S. Ellings, 105 St. James street, Monday afternoon. A communication from the president of the Federation of Women's Clubs asked the women to assist in the victory drive for clothing.

The first paper of the afternoon was given by Miss Alice Scardfield on the lakes and rivers of Canada. She spoke of the countless number of lakes and rivers in the country and of the possibility of traveling throughout the land with canoes. Most notable are the St. Lawrence River, discovered less than 50 years after Columbus discovered America, and the Great Lakes. Many of the lakes were still being mapped at the turn of the century. Many are 50 miles long and some are 100 miles in length. She named a number of them and also spoke of the McKenzie river, 2,000 miles in length with about half of it navigable; of the Yukon which flows north through Alaska, the Columbia and the Fraser rivers.

Mrs. C. B. Dickinson gave the second paper on the Hudson's Bay Company fur trading organization. At first the group shipped men to Hudson Bay for fur trading in 1668. This business was conducted for 150 years and paid dividends most of the time. She spoke of the competition given by the Northwestern Company and how the two companies finally united. Because there were no steamships or railroads the transportation was in canoes. The white traders learned to work with the Indians and had little trouble with them. They did not allow the Indians to be in want and they always kept promises.

The next meeting will be January 28 at the home of Mrs. G. N. Wood, 197 Bruyn avenue.

Sorosits Meets With Mrs. Dumm

For Regular Study Meeting

Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm, 4 Mountain View avenue, was hostess to Sorosits at the meeting Monday afternoon. During the current events forum reports were made on the convening of the 79th Congress and of the possibilities of the U. N. O. headquarters establishing in Atlantic City temporarily.

Mrs. Howard A. Lewis gave the paper for the day on "The Dance and Television." She spoke mainly of the development of television with which experiments were being conducted as early as 1880. Television requires a new tube in the radio set which will bring the object and action to the set. She reported that new sets will be on the market soon. Costs will be approximately $100 for pictures of 7" by 7".

England has had more extensive work with television and since the population there is more concentrated the distances to broadcast are not so great. In discussing the technicalities of television Mrs. Lewis noted that the sound follows the curve of the earth and light waves do not. Before the war England had transmitted some animated cartoons and some musical programs. England has also patented the producing of both the voice and picture with one tube. In America Wanamaker's is converting its auditorium into a television studio. There are some sets being planned to show a 15" by 23" picture which will be priced at $250. These will produce only black and white pictures although the technicolor is being developed.

Mrs. Lewis concluded her talk with a review of her recent return to America from London on the new Mauretania, which has been converted into a troop ship bringing Canadian troops home.

Next week the group will meet with Mrs. Grover Lasher, 75 Lucas avenue.

FURTHER EXPLANATION OF THE PAYING FOR BRIDE'S BOUQUET

A reader writes: "In my particular edition of 'Etiquette' (which is not a late one), you have included the cost of the bride's bouquet in two lists—the one giving items under parents' obligations and the other, the bridegroom's list. Was it a misprint in the book or does it have an explanation? In short, whose obligation is it?"

There are footnotes on this in all of the editions, but the information is not very clear in one book, which you probably have. In most communities, the bridegroom buys the bouquet and in a certain few, he also buys the bridesmaids' flowers and corsages for the mothers. In other communities, including New York (especially at weddings of great elaborateness), the bride's bouquet is ordered with all of the other flowers by the bride's parents and the bridegroom sends her the corsage she wears away.

Parties for Soldiers? Of Course! Dear Mrs. Post: Are parties for returned soldiers not being given? I ask because the society pages of the newspapers in our section never carry any such notices. We would like to give a very large party of the at-home type for friends, relatives, neighbors and even some of our business friends, when my son returns from overseas. Will this be proper? As there would be several hundred guests, do you think it a good idea to receive during several hours in the afternoon and then again in the evening? We do not want to invite them at mealtime as we are counting on serving party sandwiches, cakes and just punch to drink.

Answer: Certainly parties are being given for returned soldiers!

But I find your double-party plan rather confusing and also exacting of more preparation than you propose. It seems to me that many who are asked for the afternoon would surely stay on into the evening and perhaps be expecting a substantial evening meal. Therefore, I think two completely separate parties would be better—first a big general one either in the afternoon or evening and then, a small one for his own personal friends a few afternoons or evenings later. For both of these, the refreshments you suggest will be adequate.

Japanese Deeply Influenced People, Reports Dr. Shafer

The Japanese people are a very deeply influenced people, Dr. Luman J. Shafer, Litt. D., general secretary of Japan and China for the Federal Council of Churches in America and secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, told a large audience Sunday evening at the Fair Street Reformed Church when he made his "Report on Japan" to a union meeting of the churches of the city. With that idea in view he said now was the time for America to use its influence to bring the Christian religion to the people of the islands.

In their present state of mind Mr. Shafer, who spent many years in Japan as a missionary and knows the Japanese people well, said the Japanese people now see American culture as unobtainable. This attitude, however, he cautioned may be "surface reaction" and that attitude may change. He urged that now while this attitude exists it is up to us to work in the fertile field and work to bring Christianity to the people.

The manner in which the occupation of Japan has been accomplished, he said, had brought to the Japanese people a high regard for the Americans and they even considered the American G.I. as a "noble character." This attitude among the peoples of Japan has been brought about by the manner in which General MacArthur has conducted the occupation of the islands. While the country is being run under directives of the invasion forces, still the Japanese people have been entrusted with the burden of running their own country themselves under the limits of these directives.

Visited Japan

Dr. Shafer, introduced by the Rev. S. W. Ryder, who himself was for many years a missionary in Japan, came to Kingston to make his report to the people on his recent trip to Japan, which he visited as a member of a four-man commission which went to Japan to make a study of conditions and recommend action for the Christian churches to re-establish Christianity among the conquered people.

"Conditions in Japan today are a challenge to the Christian church," said Dr. Shafer. "The opportunity could not be greater than it is and it is not to be avoided," he continued. This opinion he said was shared by many high ranking officials in Japan, including General MacArthur, and they believed that only if our control of Japan is "measurably Christian," can a free, strong and decent Japan be built. Free people do not voluntarily go to war, he concluded.

During the stay of the commission to Japan the members talked with Japanese of all rank, including the Emperor. His conclusion was that there is no denying the truth of things that did occur in Japan, but he said we do need to deny that all Japanese were included. The Japanese Christians could no more stop the war than we ourselves could. Under stress of false information which gripped the impressionable Japanese people some of them yielded to a certain extent but some stood bravely and many of the Christians suffered for their steadfastness.

Report in Part

Dr. Shafer, speaking as a member of the Protestant Deputation which made the three-weeks visit to Japan, said in part:

The Christians were under severe pressure before and during the war. The military group in Japan, aided by the secret police, were definitely hostile to Christianity. They felt that the Christian doctrine of the creation conflicted with the mythological story of the founding of the Japanese Empire, that the idea of the Kingdom of God seemed to reflect against the Japanese idea of the eternal Japanese Empire. They objected that the Christian teaching of Christ's final judgment of men and nations indicated that the Japanese Empire might be subject to judgment and therefore not perfect and eternal. They also felt that the Christian's attitude toward Jesus as the Son of God militated against the true service of the Japanese subject to the "divine" emperor of Japan.

"Many Christians were subjected to long periods of questioning by the police and some were imprisoned. The church services were limited often to home meetings and not more than one public service a week was held. The pressure of popular feeling against Christianity, stirred up by the military group, the demands of factory labor upon ministers and members of the congregation, made services of worship difficult and attendance small. The miracle of it is that the church survived at all and our deputation was rejoiced to find that in spite of these persecutions Christians were vigorous in their faith and prepared to go forward to meet the challenge of the new, free, democratic age in Japan."

The Japanese Christians spoke very frankly about their attitudes during the war. They recognized that they had been prisoners of propaganda and that they had no basis for criticism of Government acts. They were forced to think in terms that the military group desired and consequently, up to a few months before the end of the war many of them felt that their cause was just and even played secret misgivings which grew in strength as the war dragged on. Preaching was largely confined to matters of personal religion and public issues were not discussed. The whole trend of Japanese thinking in and out of the Church today places the blame for the destruction of their cities and the food shortage from which they are suffering squarely upon their own military leaders rather than upon America."

As a matter of fact, General MacArthur, his associates in the Allied command, and the American soldier, are extraordinary popular with the whole people. It is so amazing as to be difficult to believe. We found that what General MacArthur said to us when we were with him at luncheon and what he has said in public again and again, is absolutely true; namely, "The American G.I. is the best ambassador that America ever had." The Allied control of Japan is not "soft" in any respect, but the American G.I., in carrying out the occupation of the country, is more like an American citizen mingling with the Japanese people than like an armed soldier. As a matter of fact, only sentries on duty carry arms and the soldier mingles with the people in an extremely disarming manner.

"Of course there are instances of untoward conduct. One must expect that among any group of boys away from home, but the attitude of the average American soldier far outweighs anything of an untoward character. The G.I. in Japan does not understand the criticism of the American people that they are not tough enough. They wonder if we have forgotten that they are the boys who came up through Guadalcanal, Leyte and Okinawa."

One sergeant when questioned about this said to a high officer, "What do they want us to do? Bash every one of them in the head with the butt of a musket?" They realize that the Japanese people know that they are defeated and now they are proposing to treat them like human beings and they find them very interesting and intelligent people, with whom they are glad to associate. When we visited Nara we saw a good many of our American soldiers walking in the park there as members of Japanese family groups, with their phrase books in their hands, obviously enjoying themselves immensely. America can well be proud of her soldiers in Japan today.

The other members of the Deputation from the Protestant Churches of America visiting Japan were—Dr. Douglas Horton, chairman of the American Committee for the World Council of Churches; Bishop James C. Baker of Los Angeles, chairman of the International Missionary Council; and Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, executive secretary of the Department of International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches.

Three Men Injured In Pine Bush Crash

Three men were taken to Horton Memorial Hospital in Middletown Saturday afternoon following a collision a half mile west of Pine Bush on route 52. The accident happened at 4:30 o'clock and was investigated by Trooper Divine of the Highland barracks but the three men had been removed from the scene when he arrived. They had been riding in a Ford coach traveling east and according to Gabriel Levine, 46, of The Bronx, the car crossed the white line and collided with his car head on. Levine was traveling west. Levine suffered contusions and concussion and his wife, Cella Levine, was injured about the legs. His Chevrolet sedan was considerably damaged. No arrest was made.

The investigation was also joined by Corporal Ray Dunn of the Wurtsboro station. He reported that the other car involved was owned by Elizabeth Costello of Ulsterville and was being driven by Harvey Crawford of Pine Bush. With Crawford were Franklin Buckridge and James Knowles. The three men were treated at the Horton Memorial Hospital for deep lacerations and numerous contusions.

Firemen's Worries

Salt Lake City, Jan. 15 (AP)—A woman's telephoned report of a “roaring inferno” brought firemen with all equipment of the Salt Lake County fire department to find the “inferno” had been quenched with a pail of water.

Mrs. J. Raymond Spencer, discovering a fire in her attic, called to a neighbor to summon the fire department.

The excited neighbor did.

How About a (Sail)

Portland, Ore., Jan. 15 (AP)—Vice Admiral Daniel E. Barbey, back from directing the Korean occupation, went shopping for “civvies.”

“Like G.I.’s, he found store shelves bare of what he could wear.

So the Admiral's wearing suit borrowed from a relative; a shirt whipped together by a Chinese tailor from “some of my old bed-sheets.”

Diaper Brigade

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (AP)—The most acute laundry problem in Los Angeles:

A thief stole the only washing machine in a trailer court where 125 World War II veterans and their wives live.

More than 100 of them have babies.

Pleased to Meet Ya!

Carlville, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP)—Two hitch-hikers were successful in thumbing a ride when they got into the car they introduced themselves to the driver and his companion.

The driver introduced himself, Sheriff George Ashley and his deputy, Clifford Arnold. Then he produced a warrant for the two hitch-hikers on a charge of theft of chickens.

The sheriff drove them to jail.

Time Saver

Hastings, Neb., Jan. 15 (AP)—A woman sitting in her parked automobile, looking disconsolately at the parking meter on the curb, hailed a police officer.

“I’ve got 20 minutes left on that meter,” she told the policeman. “Do I have to sit here until it’s up?”

The cop decided quickly, she could drive away, without violating any traffic law.

tribute materially to the advancement of oil heating in general and to maintain the leading position which the company has established for itself in this field.

Maroon 5 Ready For Poughkeepsie Contest Tonight

Gunning for their third straight victory of their present winning streak, the Kingston High School basketball varsity motors to Poughkeepsie tonight for a non-DUSO battle with the forces of Coach Sam Kallach. This contest will serve as a tune-up battle for the DUSO game Friday night at the municipal auditorium when Liberty furnishes the forces of Coach G. Warren Kias with loop opposition.

Having scored victories over Saugerties and Newburgh in two games last week, the Maroon has hopes of continuing their present streak, but from the looks of things, they're going to have to play top flight basketball to do so. Poughkeepsie is putting a team on the floor which although does not rate with the best, is nevertheless tough to beat, and Kingston is going to be in for a real battle on the Bridge City court tonight.

Coach Kias will start his usual five of Tony Albany and Bob Murray, forwards, Eddie Weaver, center, and Len Siskler and Bob Miller, guards. Should the regulars require assistance, the Maroon mentor will have Ken Lowe, George Glaser, Mike Rlenzo, and Tommy McGrane, forwards, Ed McCauley and Neal Dunham, centers, Harry Koch, Bob Gheare and Bruce Quick guards ready for action.

Local fans who intend to make the journey to the Bridge City this evening are advised to do so early, as the seating facilities are limited. Eddie Arcaro Returns

To Hialeah Thursday

Miami, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro will return to the saddle with the opening of Hialeah race track here Thursday. The little Italian ran into bad luck last summer when he was forced to the sidelines by an attack of appendicitis and had to undergo an operation. After a layoff he returned to competition, but apparently it was too early and he soon grounded himself for a complete rest until the Hialeah meeting.

Joins Penn Staff

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—John M. (Jackie) Welsh, Jr., former University of Pennsylvania football star, has been appointed to the gridiron coaching staff of his alma mater. Welsh, recently discharged from the Navy, replaces Donald S. Kellett who resigned last July.

Newburgh Scores 57 to 48 Victory Over 'Y' Quintet

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

PUMP ACTION—Andy Varipapa of Brooklyn, the trickshot bowler, who all but makes the ball talk, is built like a football full-back — squatly, heavily muscled and one of the game's real strongmen. If he wished, he probably could throw the 16 pound sphere the full 60 feet length of an alley right into the pin pit.

Varipapa, however, has learned through long experience that bowling requires no great amount of strength to become expert at it. A hardy physique has its advantages for Varipapa himself, what with the arduous exhibition bowling he does, but that definitely does not apply in actually knocking down the pins.

Varipapa's advice as an instructor—and he is a fine teacher—is: "Take it easy. Don't try to throw the ball all the way into the pin pit to knock down the pins. Let the ball do the work. Roll it. A rolling ball—with turn—gathers the sticks."

And Varipapa is a shining example of what he preaches. He takes things easy. In fact he has developed a style oddity to help him relax. It's sort of pump action—a swinging of the ball two, three or more times to get it "grooved and working like a pendulum, before he moves into stride. Varipapa's pump motion is simply this: He takes his stance, feet pretty well spread, drops his shoulders well forward into a crouch to a point where the bowling ball is approximately even with the knees. Then he pumps the ball, forward and back, forward and back, until he senses a feeling of timing. And then—his short, four step footwork—slow, like taking a walk. It's the answer for his graceful appearance in action.

Local Defense Is Poor as Hilly City Club Decides Issue in Last Two Periods

The local Y.M.C.A. cagers traveled to Newburgh Monday night and managed to gain an even break with the Hilly City five after two brisk battles. In the preliminary the Kingston Jayvees soundly trounced the Orange county team by 51 to 23. In the main feature, however, Newburgh bounced back and dumped the invaders by 57 to 48 in a closely-contested fray.

Kingston's varsity basketballers rode to a slim 27 to 22 margin during the first half but poor defensive play in the final two periods decided the issue as Newburgh staged a heavy offense and came through with the triumph. Smith, local center, starred for Kingston both on defense and in the scoring column. While swishing the nets for 17 markers, he kept his opposing center man down to a single point. Hansen and Thomas collected 10 apiece for the losers. Haude and Rohan spearheaded Newburgh with 24 and 18 points respectively.

Barnes, Bloom and Dougherty took over for Kingston in the opening fracas and managed to coast the team in for an easy victory. Barnes scored 14 while Bloom got 11 and Dougherty netted 10.

75 Coal Miners Escape Death in Explosion Today

Welch, W. Va., Jan. 15 (AP)—

Seventy-five coal miners miraculously escaped alive today after a tremendous blast in the No. 9 Hanco mine on the outskirts of Welch, but the fate of 192 others was in doubt as rescuers drove in to the smoke and dust-filled shaft workings.

E. L. Chatfield, an inspector-at-large of the state mine department, said he was informed that 267 men were in the workings when the explosion occurred around 9:30 a. m.

The force was so terrific that negro pupils in a school house and workers in the store and office of the New River and Pocahontas Consolidated Coal Company, from 500 to 1,000 feet away, were injured by shattered glass and debris. The mine is operated by New River and Pocahontas.

Unofficial estimates said from a third to one-half of those coming up the shaft steps, which somehow remained intact although the tipple appeared to be a total wreck. The shaft is about 400 feet deep. Others had to be helped or dragged from the mine, and some of them appeared to be semi-conscious from shock.

Hospitals of Welch, a city of 7,000 population and the county seat of the biggest bituminous coal producing county in the United States, were quickly filled to overflowing with injured miners and children from the school house.

Presents Its Side of Case Concerning Strike That Holds Up Production of Supplies

Monday noon at the Nelson

House in Poughkeepsie 140 citizens from Ulster and Dutchess counties, including dealers handling General Motors Corporation products, were dinner guests of General Motors when that corporation presented its version of the facts concerning the U.A.W.-C.I.O. strike against General Motors which has tied up production at General Motors plant since they struck on November 20, 1945.

The meeting was in charge of W. T. Wilson, manager of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation at Albany, who with the aid of slides presented a review of the situation in a talk entitled, "Here is the Issue." Similar meetings are being held throughout the United States this week to present to "key" men in every community of the country, General Motors views of the picture.

At the conclusion of the talk Mr. Wilson asked those present to study the facts as presented and then express their opinions by letter or telegram at once while the issue is at stake at United States Senators Robert F. Wagner, James M. Mead and Representative in Congress Jay LeFevre. It was Mr. Wilson's contention that, "America is confronted with an issue which will mean the end of free enterprise."

People Should Decide
In his talk Mr. Wilson pointed out facts which have been involved in the controversy between General Motors and the United Automobile Workers, C.I.O., which has tied up production of General Motors products since November. He pointed out that the people of the United States should decide the policy which is to guide the future, claiming that the matter has now become a national issue involving government policy. He charged that General Motors has been made the "guinea pig" and on the outcome of this test case depends whether we shall have a free competitive form of government with the government being the servant of the people or whether the people shall be the servant of the government.

Largest Increase
Mr. Wilson pointed out that G.M. had offered an average increase of 13 1/2 cents an hour to its workers, which was the largest G.M. factory ever offered to its workers. He pointed out that this increase would have paid workers $43.44 a week for the same number of hours for which workers were paid $36.93 during the war. This it was pointed out was at least 33 per cent more than a worker would have received in January 1941, if he had the same number of working hours then. It was stated that the government had officially stated the cost of living had increased 33 per cent from January 1941 to the present.

This increase in pay, Mr. Wilson said, meant 10 per cent more "take-home pay" in peace time than in war time for the same number of working hours.

On the proposition of "a look at the books," Mr. Wilson stated that in annual reports complete financial statements were made by the company to stockholders and to the government departments.

Those present from Kingston were:

General Motors dealers: E. G. Boessneck, P. O. T. & Co. Broadway Garage; A. H. Chambers, Stuyvesant Motors; L. E. Chambers, Stuyvesant Motors; C. J. Gross, Kingston Buick Co.; M. H. Herzog, Herzog Supply Co.; Myron A. Hopper, Herzog Supply Co.; Roy M. Sullivan, Colonial City Chevrolet.

Guests: R. K. Ballard, R. K. Ballard; W. Anderson, Carl Fessenden; W. Anderson, Carl Fessenden; C. L. Dunn, principal of Kingston High School; Fred Ertel, Ertel Engineering Corp.; E. ## Kingston District Ladies' Night

The first annual dinner and Ladies' Night of Kingston District Boy Scouts held Monday evening in the Crystal Room of the Clinton Hotel was an outstanding success. Approximately 100 were in attendance and included guests from other districts in the Ulster-Greene Council.

The program, which followed the serving of a delectable dinner, was featured by a talk, "Travels in Eskimo Lands," by Harold Elide, a native of Norway.

A double quartet, comprised of members of the A Cappella Choir of Kingston High School, sang several numbers. During the singing of the meal, Earl Allyn, assistant scout executive, led the assembly in singing.

The program opened with the singing of the national anthem and was followed by the introduction of guests by G. Herbert DeKay, retiring chairman of the Kingston District, who acted as toastmaster. Mr. DeKay had been chairman of the Kingston district for two years and he expressed his profound appreciation for the generous cooperation given him by the chairman of the various committees of the district.

Henry Page, the new district chairman, was presented. Scout Executive D. Gregory Badger paid a glowing tribute to the retiring district chairman and outlined the work of the ensuing year for the Ulster-Greene Council.

Daniel Bittner presided at the piano during the group singing. Members of the A Cappella double quartet were Betty LaTour and Beth Sherman, sopranos; Kathryn Sweeney and Gretchen Bence, contraltos; Elmer Havens and Arthur Sowers, tenors; James Halbert and Melvin Moxes, basses; Bruce Decker, pianist; Leonard Stine, director.

16 States Hit By Electrical Walkout Today

Westinghouse Surrounded
Mass picketing demonstrations developed around the 15 gates of Westinghouse's main production plant in East Pittsburgh, which employs an estimated 24,000 workers. Orderly crowds gathered in streets. The big plants were closed.

Several thousand men and women wearing union arm bands paraded outside the four G.E. plants in Lynn and Everett, Mass. Both factories were closed. Supervisory personnel had made no attempt to enter the plant.

Possibilities that the strike might be averted faded yesterday when the union—the nation's third largest—the Labor Department in Washington and the firms—the big three of the electrical industry—reported that no developments had arisen to postpone the walkout.

All Equipment Hit
Virtually every type of electrical equipment, from tiny hearing aids to giant locomotives and turbines, will be affected. The list of appliances made by the firms includes items off the market since Pearl Harbor and many vital to reconversion of other industries.

Among other products, the firms manufacture electric refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, electric stoves, lamps and light bulbs.

Involved in the strike are 100,000 General Electric Company employees, 75,000 Westinghouse workers and 25,000 employees in the Electrical Division of General Motors.

States which have either G.E., Westinghouse or General Motors plants are California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Maryland, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The union's wage demands had been encountered by General Electric, described as the world's largest producer of electrical products, with an offer of 10 cents an hour raise for employees earning less than a $1 an hour, and 10 per cent increase for those earning more than a $1.

Average Wage Was $35
General Motors — already involved in a strike of 175,000 C.I.O. United Auto Workers — offered 13 1/2 cents an hour boost and Westinghouse proposed to increase the work week from 40 to 45 hours with no change in wage rates. The union has said the average weekly wage of the workers was $35.

Albert J. Fitzgerald, C.I.O. U.A.W. general president, had said the union would call off the walkout if G.E. and Westinghouse would meet U. S. Steel's offer of a 25 cents an hour increase, and General Motors would give its electrical employees the 17 1/2 per cent increase proposed by the president's fact-finding committee for automobile workers.

C. E. Wilson, president of G.E., said the union made the offer contingent upon the firms' increasing wages further in the future to meet amounts set in the steel and auto workers' dispute.

Contractor Announces Profit-Sharing Plan

Suffern, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—

One of New York state's largest contractors announced today his plan for amicable labor relations—25 per cent of gross profits to his workmen.

Anthony Cucolo, owner of the West Shore Concrete Company, said he would put such a profit-sharing plan into effect for the benefit of his employees on his next contract.

Cucolo built New York state's Storm King highway and by-pass as well as the United States Military Academy's great artillery range near West Point.

Navy Recruiting Will Open Here

Chief Quartermaster Steve E.

Smith, in charge of the Poughkeepsie Navy Recruiting Office, announced this morning that he will have an office in the local post office building every Thursday during the hours of 1 to 6 o'clock in hopes of promoting enlistments in the navy for important and interesting radar work.

This room will be 209 and the navy representative requests all young men to drop in and talk over the possibilities of radar work.

Wednesday, Chief Smith will address a special assembly of the January graduates at Kingston High School and will devote most of his talk to radar.

Men from 17 to 30 years of age are eligible for the radar program and applications will be considered at any time.

from the evidence that it was "willful and corrupt" within the meaning of Section 12 of the code of criminal procedure.

This section confers jurisdiction on a special court for trial of impeachments. The Bar Association had asked the Legislature to consider ouster proceedings against Schenck.

Tapped Telephone Wires
The association's charges were based on telephone conversations Schenck had with O'Connell on January 18 and January 27, 1944. The jurist allegedly discussed with O'Connell deliberations of the Appellate Division concerning the election fraud case involving William J. Shea, Cohoes school janitor.

O'Connell's telephone was tapped by aides of George P. Monaghan, DeWey's special prosecutor in charge of the extraordinary grand jury investigation of crime in the county. In one of the talks on the record side for ignition repairs. She was driven away from there by a man in another car.

Detectives checked the license number to a woman living in suburban Glenview. They learned the identity of the man, not her husband, and began search for the two persons.

This might be the couple to which Chief of Detectives Walter Storms referred in a broadcast last Wednesday, two days after the killing. At that time he said a woman was seen on Thorndale avenue, near the Degnan home, about 2 a. m. January 7, carrying a bundle in both arms, that she was seen at the Degnan home, with a man at the wheel.

Storms asked the couple, if they had no connection with the Degnan case, to come forward and contact his office by mail or telephone.

The west side service station garage operator, Edward Winkel, told reporters the woman brought the car in about 10 a. m. January 7, asking to have the lights, clock and radio checked and ready Tuesday as she was driving to California.

Winkel said the car was ready Tuesday but it wasn't until Thursday that the woman and her man friend returned, with some top-dressing for the car, left again and haven't returned. A garage attendant, William Langlo, told reporters the woman, an occasional customer before, seemed "jittery and nervous" last week.

G.I. Lawyers Set To Defend Private In Mock Trial

The hapless G.I. who finds himself embroiled with military justice in the mock trial scheduled as the feature of Kingston Post's mammoth reception to returning veterans should bent the rap with nothing worse than a week's restriction to the post.

This is assured by the presence of five practicing lawyers on his defense staff—Bud Culliton, Louis Bruhn, Charles Hoehling, Elmer Nathan and Thomas Hunkler—and all of these gentlemen are ex-servicemen thoroughly acquainted with the double-talk of the "Articles of War."

The big reception is scheduled at the New York State Armory, Friday night at 8 o'clock and Vice-Commander James Murphy enthusiastically predicts a large attendance. Guest speakers will be present to discuss the benefits derived from membership in the American Legion.

The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of a G
